2021-2022 SENIOR

SCHOLARSHIP PACKET

**All scholarship deadlines, criteria, and information are subject to change. Please verify scholarship information with the College Access Advisor in the Career Center.

SCHOLARSHIPS

GENERAL INFORMATION

- There are two categories under which scholarships fall: PUBLIC is money awarded through public schools and PRIVATE is money awarded through private schools, individuals, companies, and organizations.
- Scholarships are offered for achievements in academics, talent, service, leadership, athletics, and specific areas of study.
- Scholarship monies do not have to be repaid.
- Scholarships may require students to maintain minimum standards during school such as a specific grade point average and/or that they take a certain number of credits each semester they are enrolled in college.
- All scholarships have application deadlines.
- Students can apply for as many scholarships as they want.
- Many scholarships will require that students complete the FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid).
- Talent scholarships will require an audition and/or interview.

WHEN TO APPLY

- Students can apply for school-based scholarships when they have applied for admission to a college and have been accepted. Many colleges allow students to apply for admission and scholarships by completing one application. Check with the college where you are applying for the appropriate forms.
- Students can apply for private scholarships throughout the year. DEADLINES VARY.

WHERE TO FIND

- Search college web sites to find available scholarships from each school
- Listen to the daily announcements for updates on available scholarships.
- Talk with the College Access Advisor or the Scholarship Specialist in the Counseling Center for current scholarships
- Check memberships in organizations such as religious, fraternal, military, and work groups.
- Research the school you want to attend and call their financial aid office
- Check out the following websites:

***NEVER PAY MONEY TO APPLY FOR ANY SCHOLARSHIPS—BEWARE OF SCAMS! *****

COMMON SCHOLARSHIP REQUIREMENTS

Application - These forms will probably require you to submit detailed information about yourself, such as your contact information, year in school, personal background, college plans, and intended major. Make sure you follow the scholarship providers' rules about filling out these forms. You may have to make several copies of each form or apply online. Always type your responses using 12-point font.

Transcript of grades - Even if the scholarship you are applying for does not require a certain grade point average or ACT score, many scholarship providers like to see your most recent transcript. This will provide information about how well you are doing in school, your attendance record, class schedule, and courses completed.

Letters of Recommendation - Most scholarship providers require their applicants to submit at least one letter of recommendation. Recommendations provide an outside perspective about the student who is applying for their scholarship. Ask someone who knows you well, a favorite teacher, employer, or other professional to write this letter. Never ask a family member! Letters need to be objective and credible.

Essay - The essay section of the application is very important. The essay gives the applicant an opportunity to voice opinions, point out individual strengths, and stand out from other applicants. Follow the guidelines for word count or topic that is stated. Not following the guidelines will disqualify you from consideration.

Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) - Most scholarship awards require students to submit the FAFSA as a part of the application process. FAFSA will open on October 1, every school has different priority deadlines, so it is important to finish FAFSA as soon as possible. The FAFSA can be found on the web at www.fafsa.ed.gov.

WINNING THE SCHOLARSHIP

Be proactive. When you find a scholarship with eligibility criteria that you meet, contact the provider and request a scholarship application packet. Whether you have to request the application by phone, email, or by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope, do it! Get the process started by requesting the information yourself.

Be timely. All scholarships providers set deadlines, and you MUST adhere to them. Make sure you have all materials submitted before the deadline. If the scholarship deadline is approaching and you have not yet received the application packet that you requested four weeks earlier, follow up with the provider and request the application packet again. You do not want to miss a deadline as providers will not consider late applicants.

Be organized. Excellent organizational skills will pay off! Keep your applications ordered by the deadline date and give yourself plenty of time to complete them and send them in well before the deadline. Make copies of your completed applications before sending them in, and file them in folders labeled with the deadline date and the mailing address and phone number of the scholarship provider. Call before the deadline to see if your scholarship application was received.

Be positive. Finally, believe in yourself and in your chances of winning a scholarship. Hard work and time will pay off eventually. Winning even one of the scholarships you're trying for will be a tremendous reward for your efforts.

VETERANS & DEPENDENTS

The Montgomery GI Bill and the Montgomery GI Bill-Selected Reserve provide educational benefits for individuals entering military service or the reserves after June 30, 1985. Reservists who have enlisted for six or more years after July 1, 1985, may be eligible for the Selected Reserve Education Benefit.

VEAP is the post-Vietnam era Veterans Educational Assistance Program for those who entered the service after December 1, 1976, and contributed to VEAP fund while on active duty or had contributions made for them by the military.

Service-disabled veterans may be eligible for vocational rehabilitation from the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs. Benefits may include education or training to qualify for employment, tutoring, counseling.

Educational benefits also are available to veterans' dependents if the veteran (spouse or parent) died in service, was permanently disabled, or is listed as missing in action.

For more information, contact your college's office of veterans' affairs, the local office of the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs, or call 1-800-827-1000.

STUDENTS with DISABILITY

Disabled students who meet the academic qualifications for a college should apply for admission and, if needed, financial aid. By law, a qualified student cannot be excluded from college solely because of a disability.

All public schools and colleges and many independent schools provide disabled students services. Benefits may include counseling, tutoring, readers, interpreters, note takers, special parking zones, and loan of special equipment. A student's budget, as calculated by the college, should include all educational expenses necessary to accommodate a disability. Be sure to work with the financial aid office, so they understand your particular circumstances.

For more information, contact the school's disabled students' office or the national organization serving a specific disability.

ATHLETES

Athletes considering playing sports in college should contact the NCAA for information on college recruiting rules and qualifications. Visit their website at <https://web3.ncaa.org/ecwr3/>.

MILITARY

Educational benefits and scholarships are available to those who serve in the U.S. Armed Forces. In R.O.T.C. programs, enlistees receive an education first and serve an equivalent amount of time in the military after graduation. Other programs allow you to accumulate money for an education while completing your enlistment. Some scholarships pay full tuition and all fees and may include a living allowance. Contact the local Armed Forces recruiting office.

UNDOCUMENTED STUDENTS

2002 - HOUSE BILL 144: Students who are undocumented CAN attend colleges and universities and pay in-state tuition if they qualify for HB144. House Bill 144 (HB144) is a Utah law which passed in the year 2002 that allows qualifying undocumented students to pay in-state tuition, the same rate as Utah residents if he or she attends a public college or university in Utah. If they don't qualify for HB144, the student can still attend college but will have to pay out-of-state tuition in public institutions. To be eligible for HB144, a student must meet the following requirements:

- Must have attended a UTAH high school for three (3) or more consecutive years.
- Must have graduated from a UTAH high school with a diploma or G.E.D.

- Must NOT be registered as an entering student at a Utah college or university before the Fall semester 2002.
- Must have filed an application to legalize his or her immigration status or will file an application as soon as he or she is eligible.

One IMPORTANT fact to remember is that undocumented students must matriculate only to public colleges and universities in Utah! If they attend private schools such as BYU, LDS Business College, or Westminster College, the student would no longer benefit from HB144. However, undocumented students can benefit from scholarships awarded by certain private schools.

DEFERRED ACTION: In order to qualify for Deferred Action, the student must: 1) Have entered the U.S. before age 16 and before June 15, 2007; 2) Be under age 31 on June 15, 2012; 3) Be currently 15 years of age or older; 4) Have continuously resided in the U.S. for five (5) years; 5) Be currently in school, or have graduated from high school, or obtained a GED; 6) Have not been convicted of a felony, a significant misdemeanor, or three or more minor misdemeanors; 7) Not pose a threat to national security or public safety; and 8) If eligible, you cannot travel outside of the U.S. after August 15, 2012 until your application is approved

- DACA is valid until Employment Authorization Document (EAD) expiration date.
- New applicants are not being accepted at this time.
- DACA is now renewable every two years for the fee of $495.
- Advance parole to travel abroad is now available to DACA recipients.
- DACA does not affect in-state tuition or scholarship eligibility at U of U and possibly other institutions. Please verify directly with the Admissions Office of your desired college.
